Freedom to Xpress yourself...

With its signature LED illuminated recessed feature panel, evolution® Xpression has been designed to give the creative mind the perfect opportunity to take a standard product and create something original, personal and unique.

Specify this feature panel as standard from a range of colour laminates and acrylics or let your imagination run wild and explore more interesting and imaginative finishes such as textured aluminium, stone, leather or corporate graphics and photographic images. You could even consider showcasing actual 3D objects and products. The only limit is your imagination.

④ evolution® Xpression

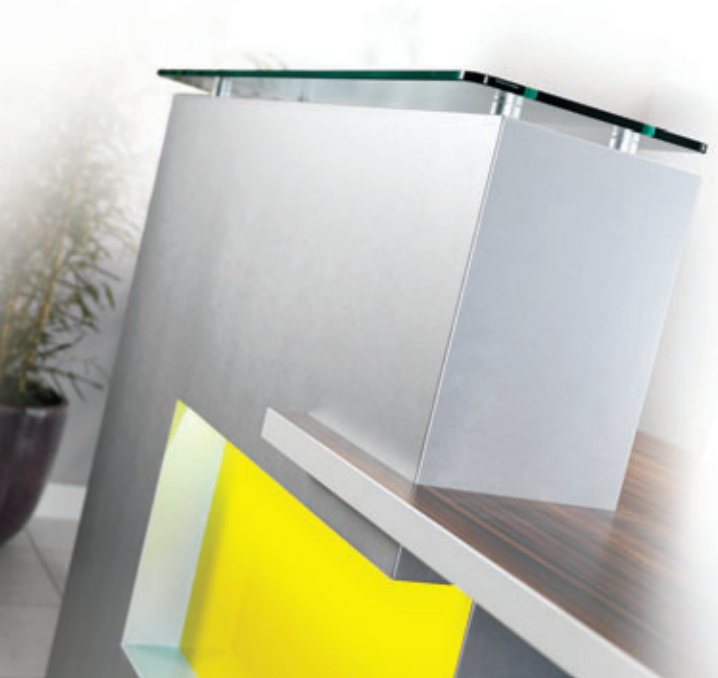

XCP-1WR-Q in graphite/cherry with pink feature panel

XCP-1WCL-G in white/oak with blue feature panel

XCP-1WL-G in silver/ebony with scalloped feature panel

The ultra crisp monolithic styling that is fundamental to the design of evolution® Xpression is clear to see across a range of standard configurations. Carefully selected to give true flexibility, this highly contemporary reception desk solution allows quick and simple ordering straight off the page of our specification guide. Select a product ranging from our XCP Compact entry level desk right the way up to the generously sized 2 person desk opposite.

Of course, as with all evolution® Xpression products, if you can't see the perfect solution immediately, we'll work closely with you to customise any of our range to perfectly match all your requirements.

XCP-2WC-G in white with oak desktop and mint feature panel with vinyl lettering

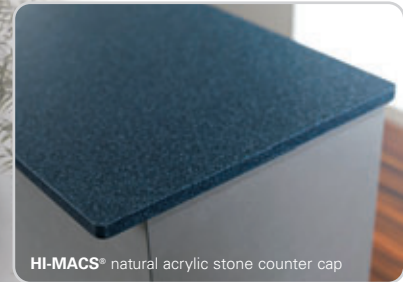

⑥ evolution® Xpression

To further ensure that evolution® Xpression can provide the solution to your requirements, we've taken a bold step with this latest product to offer a range of counter cap materials. You can add to the bespoke feel of evolution® Xpression by specifying one of 3 colours in either glass, HI-MACS® natural acrylic stone or DuPont™ Zodiaq® quartz composite.

evolution® Xpression represents the opportunity to 'make your mark' in perfectly tailoring a superb quality and truly unique reception desk solution.

Available in 44 straight, curved and combination configurations as standard, evolution® light continues to bring a new dimension to reception desk design.

The minimal uncluttered lines inherent in this range combine with the smooth even light distribution of the light box to ensure that when 'less is more' has been specified, this highly innovative design can provide the solution.

12 evolution® light

With the dual role of adding to the aesthetic appeal and at the same time protecting the smooth white lacquered finish of the lightbox section, a post mounted glass counter cap is standard on all evolution® light models and is available in a choice of 3 colours.

“With Clarke Rendall, the quality is always good, and so are their presentation materials. I gave them a problem and they came up with a great solution”

Vision Inspired

“It does exactly what we wanted it to do. The low height and lightbox make it the ideal focal point. Like an open fire - it's warm and inviting”

A highly innovative use of materials, as standard

The beautifully simple styling of evolution® classic type Z is achieved through a feature privacy screen. Fabricated from a curved piece of high quality cast acrylic, this section is available in a range of etch effect film finishes as standard, and can also display cut-out logos and graphics.

For a more traditional twist on this contemporary shape, why not specify evolution® classic type Z with a formed screen finished in a plain colour or woodgrain finish.

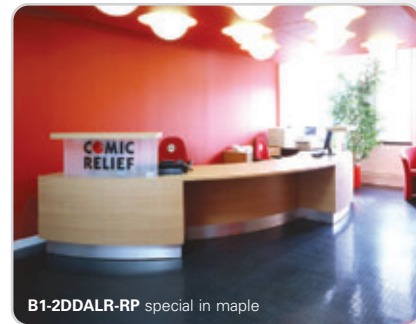

B1 Special in maple veneer

Timeless design equals timeless appeal

Part of the original range, evolution® classic type 1 continues to provide the ideal reception desk solution to a diverse array of project requirements.

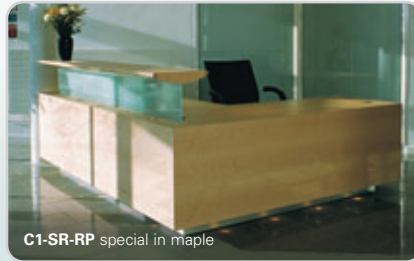

The thinking behind this eloquent and minimal design was based on listening to the market, and creating a simple yet superbly flexible solution in response. It was the strongest possible of foundations on which to base a design, and it's as true today as it was then. Which is why evolution® classic type 1 is still an extremely popular product today and promises to continue as such for the foreseeable future.

Distinctive styling to command attention

With its unique stainless steel fins, evolution® classic type 2 always creates a strong impression. As with all evolution® products, it is available in a wide range of standard configurations and finishes but every one retains the unmistakable character and freshness of the original design. It's also extremely adaptable, as is clear to see from the stunning brushed aluminium evolution® classic type 2 special to the right.

As the name indicates, this is a true contemporary classic, and as it is only available from Clarke Rendall, you can be confident that not only has it been designed to last, it's built to last too.

The building blocks for a successful solution

Designed from the outset for absolute flexibility, evolution® eclipse can be specified as standard or customised to your requirements to provide the ideal reception desk solution for virtually any reception area in the country.

Styled with a characteristically Clarke Rendall lightness of touch, this incredibly versatile range opens up a slightly more traditional appearance to a whole new level of possibilities.

To make this range an even more attractive option, many of the evolution® eclipse configurations are also available on our evolution® EXPRESS fast track scheduling. So you could have your desk delivered and installed in just 10 working days from receipt of order.

OKI
PRINTING SOLUTIONS

A major reason for the popularity of evolution® eclipse is the ease with which it can be adapted to suit your requirements. Often seen as something of a blank canvas, the ‘designed-in’ adaptability of evolution® eclipse presents endless opportunities for customisation.

Clarke Rendall’s highly skilled design team will work with you through all stages of the process to ensure all your design requirements are addressed and that the final reception desk is designed and manufactured from the standpoint of ‘what you want’ rather than ‘what we can provide’. evolution® eclipse is the perfect vehicle for this results focussed approach to furniture design.

When you combine the most flexible reception desk solution we offer, with the expertise attained from our consistent place at the forefront of bespoke business furniture, you can expect some extremely impressive results.

This nine metre evolution® eclypse special shows in an instant just what is possible when you start with a Clarke Rendall 'standard' product.

The look of bespoke with the ease of a standard product

Of all the products in the evolution® range it is perhaps evolution® elite that is the most surprising. This superb quality design offers real top end features such as stainless steel claw upright counter supports with integral up and down LED lighting as standard. The result is a truly stunning reception desk solution that can regularly match a bespoke solution on quality but can often be ordered straight off the page with a single product code.

Clearly the premier range within the evolution portfolio, evolution® elite will create the perfect dramatic impression in your reception area scheme. The combination of bold shapes and shear surfaces is delicately balanced with the subtlety of the crisp inlay banding which breaks up the facade. This beautifully conceived styling allows evolution® elite to deliver a level of design excellence previously unattainable in a standard product.

Like all evolution® products, evolution® elite was also conceived with an eye on the possibilities of customisation. Already highly impressive as a standard product, the potential for evolution® elite to answer more complex and demanding briefs is clear to see.

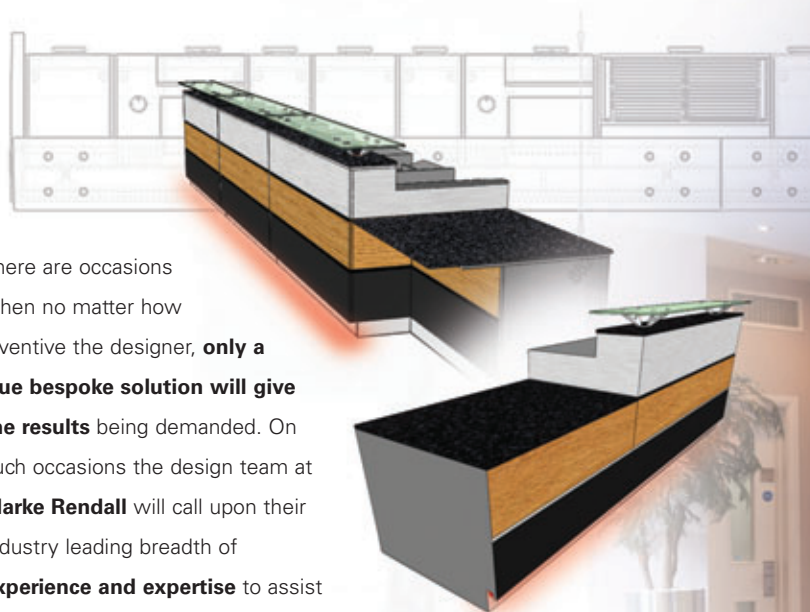

This may be a superb premium quality reception desk solution suited for a host of applications, but be in no doubt - it is also, always a highly practical, functional and durable solution to many a difficult and taxing list of requirements.

"When I order a desk from Clarke Rendall, I know it's going to be good, and the quality will be excellent"

"The successful partnership between CBS and Clarke Rendall has created for OKI a boardroom with an extremely productive atmosphere. People are looking forward to the opportunity of using this excellent new resource"

OKI

Boardroom Table

A major aspect of OKI Printing Solutions' business revolves around producing a consistently high quality image for its customers, and when OKI needed to create a fresh new image for its own new European Head Offices in Egham, they turned to Ascot based CBS for inspiration.

With over 11,000 sq ft spread over 2 floors, this was a substantial project by any standard and the Project Manager at CBS was confident from the outset that he wanted Clarke Rendall to handle the bespoke furniture element.

A free flow of information based on mutual trust and respect ensured CBS could take advantage of Clarke Rendall's design development expertise and high quality 3D presentation materials. This assistance was fundamental in ensuring that both CBS and OKI would be totally comfortable with how things would shape up before the work started in earnest.

As with any project of this scale, there were a host of challenges to overcome, and the Project Manager at CBS was highly impressed by Clarke Rendall's commitment, flexibility and capacity to "think way outside the box" in trying to resolve last minute issues. "To them, nothing was a problem, I can't praise them enough in all aspects"

The larger the project, the more people involved, and the less time the Project Manager has to dedicate to each supplier. Nobody appreciates this dilemma more than Clarke Rendall. We understand the importance to the success of any large scale project in building a trusting, business partnership.

When Pacific Interiors called in Clarke Rendall to play a major role in this turn-key refurbishment for Lawson Software in Bracknell, both the Head of Design and Head of Projects knew this was one area of the venture about which they could have 100% confidence. As with each new assignment, the Clarke Rendall design team began by studying the various working drawings and visualisations in order to firstly understand the design themes that were to be explored, and then to ascertain how each individual obstacle was to be overcome. Working closely with Pacific, they quickly grasped the essence of the design themes involved in order to engineer practical, working solutions.

At Clarke Rendall we understand just how stressful this business can be, that's why we endeavour to maintain a cool, calm facade at all times, giving the Project Manager the opportunity to concentrate on the big picture, secure in the knowledge that the dedicated and committed team here at Clarke Rendall, will deliver on time, every time.

*Retail Sales Manager
Steelcase Solutions*

Property Company St Modwen the UK's leading regeneration specialists recently benefited from a re-development of their own, with a new London head office. The Retail Sales

Manager at Steelcase Solutions needed to ensure that the needs of all the staff, plus meeting accommodation were met "We installed 35 workstations on this project, plus seating and storage" he commented "and in the areas that the Steelcase portfolio doesn't extend we brought in Clarke Rendall".

As with any project of this importance, concerns over quality and reliability must be overcome, and to ensure that the St Modwen Senior Development Manager and his Chief Executive were comfortable with how this would proceed, a visit to Clarke Rendall was arranged in order to meet the team and see the impressive facilities at first hand. "When my clients saw a large walnut veneered table top similar to the one specified for their boardroom in production, they were sold there and then" he said after.

Although this was a bespoke project calling on vast experience in this field, Clarke Rendall also produce evolution® reception desks for Steelcase Solutions when a "simple, no nonsense solution" is required.
